Re: Broadband (Internet) Projects Funded by Governmental Programs
Broadband Request for Proposal (RFP) Preparation
Broadband Construction Project Management
Morley PR21.0.428

Gregory A. Simmons,

Currently, there is a lot of discussion about expanding broadband access to underserved areas. These broadband projects are being funded by a combination of local, state, and/or federal funding. Morley has been at the forefront of these projects, bringing the local broadband initiative to fruition.

The objective is simple, but the path to success is not. These projects combine modern technologies, funding guidelines, and local/regional preferences. Morley is uniquely positioned to provide you with assistance in preparing your Broadband RFP (the first step) and/or Broadband Construction Management.

The following are services that we have provided for several other Indiana counties:

Broadband Services

Request for Proposal (RFP) Preparation

1. Work with local authorities to determine what type of broadband project is needed.
2. Prepare, present, and advertise an RFP.
3. Receive, review, and score RFP responses.
4. Present and recommend project(s) to move forward with.
5. Work with the local authority attorney to review and finalize the broadband contract(s).

Construction Project Management

1. Review broadband provider plans to assess coverage.
2. Perform site inspection and create punch lists.
3. Prepare and submit project summaries to local authorities.
4. Assist local authorities with broadband provider coordination and project oversight.
